

USM SOUTHWORTH PLANETARIUM

207-780-4249

CELESTIAL HARP AND CELTIC GUITAR

*"Some music just washes over you, and other music demands attention. The songs that Gosbee and Lane unearth belong to the latter category. The songs they've gathered for Looking Home tie into the idea that all people are searching for the place they belong, whether in an ancestral sense or as part of a new enclave they've helped create themselves...
"Looking Home is an artistic triumph!"*

-FACE MAGAZINE

CASTLEBAY PERFORMS AT THE SOUTHWORTH PLANETARIUM

St. Patrick's Day:

March 17, 2010

7:00 p.m.

Celebrate the Irish holiday here at the Southworth Planetarium with the Celtic/Nautical music of Maine's own "Castlebay." The duo of Julia Lane (Harp) and Fred Gosbee (guitar) has enchanted audiences across America and the United Kingdom with their blend of Celtic and maritime music. Along with the music, Castlebay also shares stories of remote times and distant places, as well as stories set right here in Maine.

This St. Patrick's Day, experience the Celtic magic of Castlebay in our star dome theatre.

Tickets:

$12.00 - adults; $10.00 - children

Call 207-780-4249 for tickets or more information

